

Message

From: Lyons, Troy [lyons.troy@epa.gov]
Sent: 10/3/2017 1:34:37 PM
To: Bowman, Liz [Bowman.Liz@epa.gov]; Wilcox, Jahan [wilcox.jahan@epa.gov]
CC: Beck, Nancy [Beck.Nancy@epa.gov]; Palich, Christian [palich.christian@epa.gov]; Jackson, Ryan [jackson.ryan@epa.gov]
Subject: Udall/Blumenthal Anti-Dourson PC

Sen. Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn.

Sen. Tom Udall, D-N.M.

News Conference/Briefing

Add to my calendar

Sen. Tom Udall, D-N.M.; and Sen. Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn., hold a news conference to discuss "the danger of confirming chemical industry propagandist Michael Dourson to lead the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) office that serves as the nation's chemical and pesticide watchdog."

Contact: Jennifer Talhelm at 202-228-6870 news@tomudall.senate.gov

Note: RSVP required.

Date TODAY Tuesday, Oct. 3, 2:30 p.m.

Place Senate Swamp, U.S. Capitol

Participants

- David Michaels, professor of environmental and occupational health at the George Washington University Milken Institute School of Public Health, former assistant Labor secretary for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, and former assistant Energy secretary for environment, safety and health
- Michael Hickey, whose father worked at the Saint-Gobain Performance Plastics plant where Teflon was manufactured and later died of kidney cancer
- Gwen Young, 12, whose family moved to Hoosick Falls, N.Y., after the well water in their home in nearby Peterburgh was significantly contaminated with PFOA
- Stacie Davidson, whose stepson Zane has been undergoing treatment for cancer for three years in an Indiana county where the incidence of cancer is above the national average
- Shazi Visram, founder and CEO of the Happy Family organic baby food company

Troy M. Lyons

Associate Administrator

Office of Congressional & Intergovernmental Relations

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

202-309-2490 (cell)